A functor is simply something that can be mapped over.

In Haskell and Purescript we have a "typeclass"

(This is something like an "interface" or "abstract class" in other languages)

realkinetic.com | @real_kinetic

REALKINETIC
YOUR POTENTIAL REALIZED

A functor is simply something that can be mapped over.

REALKINETIC
YOUR POTENTIAL REALIZED